New feature starts today

A new feature makes its first appearance in this week's edition of The Times. We have asked members of various organizations serving the community to prepare a brief history of their activities in the area. The series written by those members, will cover a variety of groups, clubs and organizations representing all aspects of life in the community. The regular feature begins with a look at the formation and operation of the Mountain Lake Cottager's Association on page 21. Extra $30,000 to be spent on rural roads

In response to complaints about the state of rural roads in the municipality, Anson, Hindon and Minden council has added an extra $30,000 to the 1985 road budget.

Acting deputy reeve Gary Kenney lobbied for the extra funding at the regular meeting of council on Thursday, May 9, arguing that the municipal road system, particularly the rural roads are in bad shape. Kenney noted that the Roads Needs Study shows that $6 million is needed to upgrade the roads to a satisfactory level. "There are many roads in the municipality where it is a struggle to get home" he said, adding, "I don't think it is out of hand to direct $30,000 to work on some of the worst areas. It may not accomplish a lot, but it can make a big difference in some areas. We have an obligation to give roadwork a priority."

Kenney proposed that the funds be taken from the $100,000 1984 surplus. Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas disagreed with the proposal arguing that the surplus funds should be applied to the programs that had a surplus last year, but were not completed and to the reserve fund. He noted that the Road Committee had agreed to the 1983 road budget and, "Until you see that budget, we should not entertain this motion." He added, "I won't entertain supporting anything that is not in the need study."

He continued "There is a lot of money in the road budget. We will be able to do a lot more than last year on the roads." He suggested that money could be taken from the reserve funds later in the year, if necessary.

Kenney replied, "We need the money now," then spoke of the complaints he had received about the roads and the damage caused to vehicles.

Pergolas replied, "You have half a million dollars in the road budget." Kenney answered, "Yes, but it is the same as last year. We are just keeping pace."

Referring to the resurfacing of the main street in Minden last year, Kenney noted "We have spent money in the village. We also have an obligation to our rural ratepayers."

ahead and do the work," adding that if more funds were needed at the end of the year, the money could be taken from the reserve funds.

At this point Bill Simmerson, a resident of the Brady Lake area, requested permission to address council. Simmerson told council "There have been times when you have to use a boat to get across the (Brady Lake) road," adding that the road "Needs gravel from one end to the other."

Simmerson noted also that the bends on the road need brushing to improve visibility. "You can't see anyone coming around the corners," he said.

The argument between the acting reeve and acting deputy reeve continued with Pergolas opposed to the resolution arguing that it would increase taxes and repeating his assertion that the work could be accomplished under the 1985 budget.

"I don't want to disturb the budget. It is guarded," he said. This prompted Kenney to comment, "I don't believe this. I want some pointed answers to this. This is getting silly."

He said that the roads committee should meet to decide where the money should be spent then report to council and the work begun.

Finally, after the lengthy discussion, council agreed to allocate a minimum of $30,000 from the 1984 surplus for specific uses designated by the Road Committee that will begin a program of repairs to rural roads with the greatest need.

Following the passing of the resolution, Bill Simmerson elaborated on his criticism of the condition of the Brady Lake Road. Simmerson said, "We need the work done now. We don't need the roads study to decide on the work in six months."

Simmerson noted that the road had only been graded twice in the past seven months but should be graded once a week.

Pergolas and Kenney both commented that the new policy regarding the grading of municipal roads

Endorsement lacks meeting provision

In a resolution that one councillor described as a "waste of time" Anson, Hindon and Minden council has endorsed the Rural and Native Housing Program.

The endorsement was an amended version of a resolution put forward by acting deputy reeve Gary Kenney, that not only backed the program, stating that it can be a benefit to the municipality, but also proposed that a committee comprised of members of council and representatives of ratepayers be formed to meet with RNHP representatives to assess current potential for the program; assess the benefits of new housing versus renovations; familiarize themselves with specific details of the application formulae; comment on improvements that may be made in the way of information released to the public; and report to council prior to the implementation of the program.

Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas disagreed with the necessity of forming a committee arguing that the program would become "bogged down in red tape." He said that the committee was being asked to assume too much responsibility and council alone could deal with the program.

A committee would only cause problems he said, adding "They (CMHC) have their guidelines and you have to stick to them."

Councillor Pat Burk commented that if the program did become bogged

Council seeks advice on road work

Anson, Hindon and Minden council is seeking legal advice from the municipal solicitor regarding a proposal to carry out summer maintenance of the Cox Farm Road.

The decision to seek legal advice was made at the regular meeting of council on Thursday May 9, following a discussion with Bern Berry, a resident of Minden Lake, who uses the road as access to his property.

Mr. Berry reminded council that he had attended a council meeting in September of 1984 to register a complaint about the condition of the road on behalf of seven residents of the neighbourhood adjacent to the Cox Farm Estates.

The residents were asking council to enforce a subdivision agreement with the developer that required the roads be maintained to municipal standards.

There was some question as to whether the new owner of the subdivision was bound by the agreement.

Council sought legal advice and reported in a later meeting that the owner, Sherwood Developments was responsible for the road maintenance.

On Thursday, Berry informed council that the road had been graded only twice since the fall by the municipality, but a recommendation of the road superintendent to gravel the road had not been acted on.

He asked council to continue to enforce the agreement and, if necessary, grade the road using municipal equipment and charge the developer for the work.

When it was noted that Sherwood Developments had not paid for the previous grading operations Berry suggested, "There must be some way of getting paid. A lien on the property or whatever."

Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas suggested that the municipal solicitor be asked for a legal opinion before any work is carried out.

Council agreed and passed a resolution stating that if the legal opinion from the municipal solicitor recommends such actions will not prejudice the municipality's position, the summer maintenance will be carried out by the roads department.

Subsidy received for new bridge at Buckslide

The Township of Stanhope has received a $47,000 allocation from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for the proposed construction of the Buckslide Bridge.

Pending the results of an Ontario Municipal Board hearing under the Environmental Assessment Act, construction on the new bridge could begin in September 1985.

The Township unsuccessfully applied for supplementary funding to replace the existing one lane concrete structure in 1984.

A preliminary report prepared by a consulting firm estimates the total cost of the structure will be $83,000.00.

Roads

that was passed by council at a recent meeting should improve the efficiency of the work being done. Pergolas added that the council has been discussing the Brady Lake Road and other roads in the municipality for the past week.

Simmerson replied "We need work now; not talk. Besides you can't grade rock and swamp. It needs gravel." He added, "All the cottagers are getting for their tax dollars is a cow trail."

Pergolas informed Simmerson that the road committee will be inspecting the Brady Lake Road this week. Simmerson answered "Watch out for people coming the other way," noting that the brushing operations that are being carried out are not being done on the bends in the road but are being done along the straight sections.

Simmerson was advised that the road crews have only been carrying out small operations close to town when they have time and that when the full brushing operations begin the corners on Brady Lake Road will be brushed.

Pergolas thanked Simmerson for addressing his concerns to council then as a post script added, "The roads should not have been allowed to get in bad shape."

Setting priorities

For anyone who has travelled the rural areas of Anson, Hindon and Minden, there is no question that this spring has been exceptionally rough on the roads. The natural action of the frost has wreaked havoc on sections of the road system which normally enjoys, what we consider to be an average rating.

Those who must use the roads, for business, or to reach their homes or cottage, will be happy to learn the municipality has decided to direct an additional $30,000 to the maintenance budget. This money, drawn from the 1984 surplus, will be put to use to correct the roughest spots.

While the extra expenditure will be appreciated by those who use the concession roads, the increased need for maintenance this season begs a number of questions. Is the municipality placing enough emphasis on its road upkeeping efforts? Certainly it's a never ending task, but if the maintenance program is allowed to fall behind the proscribed schedule, the conditions will only deteriorate further.

For some property owners in the municipality, the road which takes them to the cottage or home is the only visible evidence of their tax dollars at work. We disagree with that simplistic view. There are many, often intangible or less obvious, benefits provided by the municipality. However, we would agree that it is certainly one of the most important services offered, and therefore should receive priority by the council.

We applaud the council's intention to concentrate an extra $30,000 in this area, but also suggest that long range planning should not ignore the vital importance of the road system and ensure its needs are met in the future as well.

Spring sweet smell

Necrocoleopterophilous! What smells vaguely like rotting meat, is dark-reddish brown and lays in the dirt of the forest floor? One of the most beautiful - yes beautiful - and intriguing flowers around.

Wild ginger is one of those plants that we all see on a walk in the woods - but take for granted. Most of us see it as simple carpets of lush green, heart shaped leaves, each 4 inches or so long, borne perhaps three inches above the soil. But for those who will bend over, to take a really close look beneath the canopy, there are secrets awaiting.

Permit me to digress. Carrion beetles are a group of insects which seek out and devour dead animals in the forest. Despite their odious sounding name - and their equally odious odour - a number are really quite striking beetles. Some are black and orange; other almost iridescent black. Some simply burrow under the carcass, and steadily devour it from beneath.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Others are efficient excavators, digging a pit beneath the carcass then burying over the carrion, to act as a larder.

These beetles are especially important in the spring, cleaning up the assortment of dead animals left behind by spring's thaw. They're also one reason that you rarely find carcasses lying about in the wilds.

Carrion beetles are, predictably, attracted by even-faint, rotting odour. And by dark, reddish-brown colours - especially in confined spaces.

That's where wild ginger - and a few other plants like skunk cabbage - come in.

Hidden beneath the leafy canopy - down among the dry leaves not yet devoured by earthworms - are strange, vase-shaped flowers. Lying on their sides in the dirt, they're about 3/4" long by 1/2" across and hard with a finely-sculpted mouth.

The hairy, green exterior hides a striking "treasure". Inside - through the flared mouth lying temptingly on the soil - is striking blood-red - the perfect mimic for carrion. Gently borne in the air currents along the forest floor, wafts a pungent ginger odour.

Drawn, like coins to a magnet, come the beetles. In they crawl, in quest of food. With determination, they search. Up and down. And all about. As they do, they brush repeatedly across the flower's stamens, coating themselves with fine pollen.

Regarding Yvonne Guida's letter on all the sports coverage on TV, I enjoy sports on TV and hockey in particular, but I totally agree that we here in Minden, do not have the choice of channels that are available in other communities far more remote than we are. What is the world coming to? According to the new Young Offenders Act, a child under twelve years cannot be charged. The

Before the Y.O.A. was legislated, a child from age seven could be charged, have a court setting and get a good lecture from the judge, then he or she would think twice before doing any wrong again. Now all the police can do is take the child home to Mom or Pop and the police can't do a thing. We need the Y.O.A. changed back to the old way.

Recently as I travelled throughout India for the second time, I was again moved by the incredible number of people walking. Many of those persons, especially the women, were walking for water. When walking, often for great distances, with pots on their heads, they were either going to or coming from big, open contaminated wells, badly polluted streams, and sometimes, pure bore wells. In a tropical country, with over 700 million people, pure water is indeed a scarce, precious commodity.

Fortunately in Haliburton County, we have an abundance of clean, uncontaminated water. For most of us, we simply turn the tap and expect plenty of good water to gush out. Most of the time we use our water as if its source is infinite and we possibly seldom question its purity.

Frequently, in India, I showed the Echo and The Times photos of last year's walkers in the Walk for Wells. I can assure you that everyone who saw those pictures expressed a real appreciation for what the walkers, sponsors and other supporters in Haliburton County and elsewhere are doing. One Indian in particular, with watery eyes, stated also the feelings and sentiments of the others when he said: "India is a poor country; and we are sincerely thankful for whatever financial assistance we can get. However, we are really touched to see that Canadians care enough to WALK for the very poor in our country."

Canadians may not be able to share their rich water resources with those who must live in the drought prone areas of our world, but we can express our concern by walking, in a sense, with them in their search for water. The Walk for Water on June 1, 1985, (starting from the Minden

jack's world

I escaped the hard times of the Dirty Thirties by a quirk of nature - I was born in 1946, but the "lessons" learned during those troubled times, were no doubt, passed on to me by my parents. I remember a home of frugality, a place where recycling was a way of life, even though, as far as I can remember, the word had not been coined. While the lifestyle enjoyed in 1985 is a far cry from the careful tending of resources in the post-war era, the attitude of frugality has left an impression on my impression centre.

And now, not a totally unrelated digression: During the post-war period, a popular radio program personality was an individual by the name of Fibber Magee. Like the Depression, the impact of this character and his programs on me, is hard to pin down. I do recall, however, that this man, a bungler and klutz, had a famous closet which, when opened (at least once a program) would produce an avalanche of chattels, bric a brac and flotsam of the sort we all accumulate.

So, if I may undigress, armed with a frugality born on the 1930's transferred to the 1980's, I now find myself with a closet full of plastic containers. There has not been a plastic container of yogurt, cottage cheese, margarine and other modern day foods, pass through our house in years, they've all come to stay. Once the contents have been consumed, the perfectly useful plastic container, with the convenient snap lid, is washed and stored away on a special shelf with a million (it seems) of its companion pieces from days immemorial. No wonder Tupperware has to throw a party to sell their product.

Oh it all started off innocently enough, as the containers were tucked away on a special shelf. First one, then two then more and more until, like a junkie, I was hooked - there was no way I could throw out a plastic container. They're so useful you know.

Sure, from time to time I remove one from the shelf, with a great deal of self-satisfaction over my foresight and ecologically minded frugality and to place in its plastic embrace, some leftovers from dinner. Snapping the lid in place, the container is proudly placed in the refrigerator, only to disappear and be rediscovered three months later, long after the contents had long lost any resemblance of their original form.

Over time of course, the shelf became too crowded to hold my rapidly expanding collection of containers. Identifying a crisis in the making, I quickly realized that if the containers were stacked inside each other, with the lids held in a special section, then many more containers could occupy the same space. (You'll note the junkie mentality at work here - no question as to how on earth I would ever use 273,000 plastic containers - just a blind desire to see them stored as efficiently as possible.)

The ridiculousness of the situation dawned on me the other day, when searching for a container, I opened my own personal Fibber Magee closet. To the right stacks and stacks of containers of all shapes and sizes - to the left, a box of lids for same in a corresponding array of diameter. The assignment (if I didn't wish to drop the leftovers in the dog's dish and forget the whole thing) was to select a suitably sized container and find a matching lid. Try as I might, it was a herculean task beyond this mortal. It is surprising how deceiving the size of the containers and tops can be and, as I rummage through the piles of tops and bottoms, I came to realize what those radio sound effects were when Mr. Magee once again opened that nefarious closet.

The fight is over now, the dogs are a happier lot and I rarely open the cupboard door where the plastic containers and lids still reside. I have been considering moving them to a new location however, you know, to give the collection a little more space to grow. The only spot suitable is currently occupied by a plastic grocery bag collection, a collection that would rival the stocks currently on hand at our local grocery stores. But that, as they say, is another story.

New amendments introduced

- by Bill Scott, MP -

During the first week of May, the Hon. John Crosbie, Minister of Justice, introduced several pieces of legislation in the House of Commons to address serious concerns of Canadians. The Bills involved are listed below with a brief explanation.

Bill C-47

An Act respecting Divorce and Corollary Relief

This Act is a complete revision of the Divorce Act of 1968. It is an attempt to modernize the law pertaining to the divorce process itself by making it less adversarial while increasing chances for the reconciliation of the spouses or, where this is not possible, providing a more humane and fairer resolution of the consequences of divorce.

Bill C-47 provides that marriage breakdown would be the sole basis for divorce. Marriage breakdown would be established when either of the spouses has lived separate and apart for one year or the spouse against whom divorce is sought has committed adultery or cruelty, in which case immediate divorce may be granted.

It recognizes that support should promote the economic self-sufficiency of each spouse within a reasonable period of time after the divorce. It provides that any resultant economic hardship will be relieved. To take into account the best interests of children, the Act allows the courts to grant custody or access to either or both parents.

Bill C-48

An Act to provide for the release of information that may assist in locating defaulting spouses and other persons and to permit, for the enforcement of support orders and support provisions, the garnishment and attachment of certain moneys payable by Her Majesty in right of Canada.

This Act provides for release of some information and for the interception of certain federal funds to improve the enforcement of support orders, custody orders and access rights under federal and provincial law. It is written in three Parts.

Part I provides for the release of information to trace missing persons where there has been a breach of a family order or an information laid under sections 250.1 or 250.2 of the Criminal Code (abduction of a child contrary to a custody order or custody arrangement.)

Part II allows the garnishment of designated federal moneys owed a supporting spouse for payment to the dependent spouse, to enforce a spousal or child support order, or a support provision in an agreement where the agreement is enforceable by garnishment under provincial law.

Part III provides that information may be released in accordance with the Act notwithstanding any other Act of Parliament. The Bill represents the Federal government's commitment to improve the enforcement of support payments and custody and access arrangements.

Bill C-49

An Act to amend the Criminal Code (Prostitution)

This Bill would repeal and replace in its entirety Section 195.1 of the Criminal Code dealing with soliciting for the purpose of prostitution. It would ban soliciting for the purpose of prostitution in "public places" or any place open to public view. This includes the interior of a motor vehicle located in a public place, for example, on a city street, or a motor vehicle located in a private place open to public view, such as the driveway of a private residence.

It's black fly season and the only good thing about the pesky little critters is that they chase us into the car for evening drives. How long has it been since you explored your own County? This past week our family toured to Kennis Lake, visited with the good folks at Backwoods Marina, toured the pottery studio and enjoyed the scenery both in and out the Kennis Lake Road.

The highlight of the tour was seeing four deer on the way home. Sunday we hit the road again and took a jaunt to Gooderham and Irondale. Our County is growing beautifully. We saw terrific scenery, a fair bit of wild life and fast water... but we also new homes and new businesses.

Take an evening or two in the next couple of weeks to look around our community. You might be surprised at what you find.

Warning

Have you been contacted by the sellers of photocopier supplies lately? Be careful!! There are businesses that have managed to get lists from area business machine companies and are making phone calls to sell supplies 'before the price goes up'. The supplies, as it turns out, are almost twice the regular price and these companies are not representing your regular dealer. Before you commit yourself, check with your regular dealer.

Disappointed, they exit, only to be drawn to one flower after another, pollinating as they go.

These special attributes have other benefits, too. Few insects eat the strong-smelling and-tasting vegetation. And, this duff-placed flower blooms early, without frost risk, using these early-emerging insects for pollination. This allows the longest-possible development of seeds before the forest's shady canopy closes.

Necrocoleopterophilous is the scientific description for "carion beetle pollinated". It's a 'neat' word. But more than that, it reflects a fantastic marriage of adaptive relationships between plants and animals.

At Highlands - we will not be undersold

"Earnest" a hit

The not so private lives of the British upper class has seldom been documented with such charm and wit as in the Oscar Wilde play "The Importance of Being Earnest."

This delightful comedy opened the Highlands Little Theatre's sixth season last week at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Set in England in the late nineteenth century, the play concerns the lives and loves of the members of several aristocratic families.

The title character, Earnest (nicely underplayed by Ross Mark) is a rather staid young man who leads a double life.

As he admits to his friend Algernon at the beginning of the play, his real name is John Worthing and he spends most of the year at his country estate in Hertfordshire with his young ward Cecily and her governess, Miss Prism.

Occasionally he travels to London to visit his imaginary elder brother Earnest, whose identity he then assumes. Algernon (John Miller) is the antithesis of Earnest, a world-weary young man about town, who has little more to do in life than play the piano (badly), attend parties and eat.

Algernon reveals that he too leads a double life escaping from time to time to visit Bunberry, his imaginary friend who lives in the country.

Earnest is in love with Algernon's cousin Gwendolen (Nancy Robichaud) a rather shallow snob, who seems to love Earnest only because she likes his name, which, she says, "is musical and produces vibrations." Gwendolen's mother, Lady Bracknell (Caryl Douglas) whom Earnest describes as "being a monster without being a myth", is opposed to her daughter's alliance with Earnest.

When she queries him about his social status and past life he reveals that he knows nothing about his real parents, having been adopted after being found abandoned in a handbag in Victoria Station.

The revelation prompts Lady Bracknell to comment, "We cannot be expected to allow our daughter to marry into a cloakroom and form an alliance with a parcel."

Act one ends with Gwendolen telling Earnest that because of his unorthodox beginnings, she will probably not be allowed to marry him.

Act two introduces Cecily (Bonnie Fitzgerald) and her governess and tutor Miss Prism (Elaine Schmid) at the Worthing manor house.

Miss Prism is a lovelorn spinster responsible for the education of Cecily, a romantic dreamer with a rather frivolous outlook on life and a fascination with wicked people.

Miss Prism is attracted to the local clergyman, the Reverend Chasuble (Dale McConnell), a pompous individual who believes in the precepts of the primitive church that ministers should not marry.

Things start to unravel for the young lovers when Algernon, posing as Earnest, arrives for a visit and is immediately smitten by Cecily.

Cecily reveals that she has been in love with Earnest for some time even though she has never met him. Like Gwendolen, she is attracted to Earnest because of his name.

With Algernon and Cecily offstage, John Worthing returns home to announce that Earnest has died. Soon after, Gwendolen arrives and after being introduced to Cecily, discovers that both young ladies are engaged to Earnest. The result is a series of veiled insults and sarcastic asides between the two until they discover that both Algernon and John have been masquerading as Earnest.

The ladies become instant allies and John and Algernon find themselves rejected because of their duplicity.

However, all is forgiven by Act three when Lady Bracknell arrives in hot (more on page 9)

Caryl Douglas, as Lady Bracknell, looks on apprehensively as her daughter, Gwendolen, (Nancy Robichaud) accepts with pleasure, the marriage proposal of Earnest (Ross Mark) during a scene from the Highlands Little Theatre production "The Importance of Being Earnest" held at H.H.S.S. last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Rev. Canon Chasuble, (Dale McConnell), Miss Prism (Elaine Schmid) John (Earnest) Worthing (Ross Mark) and Cecily Cardew (Bonnie Fitzgerald) have varied reactions to the news that John's brother "Earnest" (actually his friend Algernon (John Miller) is alive and well and visiting the manor house.

Players merit standing ovation pursuit of Gwendolen. She disapproves of Cecily's announced engagement to her nephew Algernon but relents when she discovers that Cecily is worth a small fortune.

At this point Algernon announces that his friend Bunberry has died. "The doctors told him he would die and he did." To which Lady Bracknell replies, "He seems to have had extraordinary faith in his physician."

John declares his opposition to Algernon's engagement to his ward Cecily, citing his lack of moral character but makes it clear he will consent if Lady Bracknell approves his marriage to Gwendolen.

The stalemate is resolved when Lady Bracknell recognizes Miss Prism as the nanny who had been employed by Algernon's parents and who had vanished with their first child some twenty-eight years before.

Miss Prism haltingly admits that she misplaced the infant in a handbag in Victoria Station then fled in shame.

When Miss Prism identifies the handbag that John has kept all these years, the mystery of his true identity is solved. He is, in fact, Algernon's elder brother, Earnest.

The revelation convinces

Lady Bracknell that he is of sound character and she grants approval to her daughter's marriage. This paves the way for Algernon and Cecily to marry and even the pastor and Miss Prism get in the act when they declare their love for each other.

As the curtain descended, the actors were rewarded with a well deserved standing ovation.

It goes without saying that Wilde's play is a masterpiece, but the production would not have been successful without the fine work of the actors because of the importance of the witty dialogue and the interplay between the characters.

John Miller and Ross Mark performed admirably in the lengthy scenes; Ross restrained and earnest and John the epitome of a bored gadabout.

Nancy Robichaud and Bonnie Fitzgerald were almost flawless, confident and at ease in their roles.

The most memorable performance was that of Caryl Douglas as the imposing Lady Bracknell. Douglas, who was the co-director of the play with Mike Collins, delighted the audience with her larger than life portrayal of the haughty matriarch who is ever so aware of her position in society.

The production marked another success in the theatre group's six year history.

For the more than 450 people who attended the play during the three performances, it was a jolly good show.

Track team tops at Kawartha West

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Track and Field team kept a tradition alive last Thursday by placing first overall at the Kawartha West Track and Field meet in Fenelon Falls. The win, over four other schools, was the thirteenth consecutive year that the team has dominated the meet.

The team athletes amassed a total of 1013 points to continue the dynasty.

Fenelon Falls placed second overall with 810 points while I.E. Weldon Secondary School captured third place with 653 points.

The team was led to victory by Lesley Tashlin with five first place finishes, Alex Little with four firsts, Mark Carl, three firsts, and Kevin Smith, three firsts.

Kawartha West records were set by Lesley Tashlin (junior girls 80 metre hurdles - 12.9 seconds, and 400 metre hurdles 1:16.5), Brad Archer (midget boys shot put 13.68 and discus 43.20) and Ron Perrin (midget boys javelin 46.82).

The following students placed in the top three in their event and therefore qualify for the Kawartha Championships to be held at Trent University in Peterborough on Thursday, May 16.

down in red tape it would no longer fulfill its purpose of being a communications exercise.

Kenney responded that without the recommendation to form a committee, there was no point in passing the resolution. A committee would provide a forum for people to discuss the program, he said, adding that in previous meetings between council and ratepayers opposed to the program, the discussions had been based on different points of view.

The committee he said would encourage discussion, "based on common knowledge" since members could learn more about the program from the CMHC.

Pergolas responded by noting that the funds for the RNHP in this area are limited, adding, "If you follow this procedure, you won't get any. They will only go to areas where there is no red tape." He commented further that representatives of CMHC would not want to "come here and have to argue with a committee," and that the CMHC does not want "any bad publicity".

Kenney criticized the use of the terms "argue" and "bad publicity" maintaining that the formation of the committee would prevent a polarization of the issue.

Councillor Dave Stevens cautioned "If there are too many criteria, they won't build here."

Kenney replied that the program administrators are flexible, noting "They modified the program three times before in this area and they do have options to offer."

After some preparation a committee could ask what options are available then make recommendations to the CMHC, he suggested.

He added, "The public could have some input. We can find out more about ratepayers concerns. By forming a committee we will show that we are more sensitive to the issue."

When the amended resolution was tabled, Kenney described it as an "emasculated version of the original resolution" and a waste of time. "You might as well pass a resolution saying there are 24 hours in the day for all this means," he said.

Kenney was the only member of council who did not support the amended resolution.

After the vote, councillor Burk, who had supported the original resolution commented, "At least it is something" in that the resolution endorsed the RNHP program. Kenney responded, "No, it is nothing."

1984 vehicle fatalities decreased

Motor vehicle fatalities declined on Ontario roads in 1984 for the lowest total recorded since 1958, Ontario Minister of Transportation and Communications George McCague said recently.

"Last year, 1,118 people were killed in accidents, a 7.1 per cent decrease over the 1,204 reported in 1983," he commented.

"Unfortunately, this decrease in the number of motor vehicle fatalities was accompanied by an increase in motorcycle accidents."

Last year, 140 motorcycle riders were fatally injured, up from 117 in 1983. This represents a 20 per cent increase and an 11 per cent increase over the previous worst total of 126 recorded in 1982.

Factors involved in motorcycle fatalities remained constant: failure to wear helmets, alcohol impairment and excessive speed. "I am intent on developing new strategies to curb the current motorcycle fatality trend," McCague said. "While there was a significant improvement in the number of motorcycle fatalities in 1983, this proved to be only a short-lived trend."

"Drinking - driving campaigns and increased use of seat belts have proven effective means of making Ontario roads safer."

"So, our aim is to maintain a long-term trend of decreasing the number of motor vehicle accident fatalities on an annual basis," he concluded.

OPP investigate cottage break-in

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police is investigating a number of break-ins at area cottages. Among those reported during the past week were:

- A cottage on Salerno Lake was entered and a quantity of liquor and food removed from the premises. The police report there was also extensive damage to the building.

- Another cottage on the same lake was also entered illegally resulting in the theft of a stereo system, a Homelite chainsaw and a number of other items.

- A Mercury outboard motor was taken from a cottage on Drag Lake sometime during the past six weeks.

- Also missing is a 1982 Yamaha snowmobile, which had been left by the owners on Black Lake Road in Lutterworth Township. The machine was left in March.

Anyone with information which would assist in the investigation of these incidents is asked to contact the investigating officers, Constables MacMartin and Clendenning at the Minden OPP.

Timber supervisor, Buck Hillis, explains the intricacies of scaling timber at the sawmill operation during the Ministry of Natural Resources Forestry Field Day held on Saturday in Victoria Forest.

Ministry holds field day

Visitors from throughout Haliburton and Victoria counties attended the second annual Forestry Field Day presented by the Minden District Office of the Ministry of Natural Resources on Saturday, May 11.

The event was held in the Victoria County Forest a tract of forest land owned by the county of Victoria and managed by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Over one hundred visitors were taken on guided tours of the fifty-six year old red pine plantation and natural hardwood stand. Other demonstrations included the operation of a forest fire fighting crew, and a logging and sawmill operation.

The event was held to observe National Forest Week and to focus attention on forest management practices.

Visitors were also treated to free coffee and doughnuts, courtesy of Minden District Office. Plans are already underway for a two day event to be held next year in Haliburton county.

Trent water level report

Another navigation season is nearly upon us with the opening date set for May 17. A lot of weather has come and gone and much of the resulting water has gone over the proverbial dam since last October.

The winter was unusual in that a large amount of water came from snow during a thaw at the end of December. Then, January was steady cold afterward.

Approaching spring, the weather was quite cold so that while the snow gradually disappeared from the south and central parts of the watersheds, it remained in the northern areas until the record high temperatures around April 21. A second freshet resulted from this snowmelt, but because rain did not accompany it the flows did not set any records.

On Thursday, May 9, the reservoir lakes in Haliburton and Northern Peterborough counties were at 99.3% and the Kawartha contained a small surplus ready for early summer.

Flows were near the limits for safe navigation the weekend of May 12, 13, but expected to decline due to the warm weather.

Reservoir water should not be needed in earnest for some time yet.

New president for Legion

Joan Irish has been elected President of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 129.

The election was held at a general meeting on Thursday, May 9. The president and three vice-presidents were newly elected to their positions.

First vice-president is Doug Pritchard. Second vice-president is Helen Johnson. Jack MacDonagh was elected third vice president.

The immediate past president is Bruce McKay.

Mabel Brannigan was re-elected to the position of secretary.

Jim Hobson remains as the sergeant at arms.

Lloyd Whittaker was re-appointed as the service officer.

Members of the executive are Mike Hawman and Earl Shipley who were re-elected and the newly elected members Wally Chambers, Fred Knight, Gerald Irish and former past president, Allin Cooper.

In addition to electing the officers, members appointed four delegates to attend the Provincial conference from May 12 to May 16. The delegates who are attending the meeting in Hamilton this week are Bruce McKay, Mabel Brannigan, Sylvia Sisson and Jim Hobson.

Reverend John James leads the congregation in the hymn "Bless this Church" during the dedication of the recently completed entrance way to Lochlin United Church Sunday morning.

Special appeal for young drivers

The Ontario Provincial Police are seeking the help of parents and teachers to reduce the number of accidents involving teenagers drinking and driving after end-of-term celebrations over the next couple of months.

Graduations, school dances and field parties are just around the corner. The OPP wants to convince the partygoers that drinking and driving can cause senseless death and injury.

The provincial police are concerned with a wide variety of traffic safety problems, but prevention of impaired driving is a priority item because this persistent social problem brings on untold human suffering and a tremendous financial cost to society.

During 1985, International Youth Year, it is the special objective of the OPP to have the young people of our province experience the safest motoring possible this spring and summer.

To accomplish this objective, OPP Commissioner Archie Ferguson is asking for a cooperative and concentrated effort by parents, educators and law enforcement officers to help our young people truly understand the perils of drinking and driving.

While police officers have a definite role in enforcing anti-drinking and driving laws, educators can contribute by encouraging discussion on the subject of drinking and driving as part of the graduation preparations.

Parents can use their influence to encourage their children to exert pressure on their peers. The glamour and excitement wrongfully associated with alcohol consumption and driving has to be removed.

Commissioner Ferguson said, "OPP officers will do their part through their ongoing vehicle spot check program, making a special effort to deter our youth from drinking and driving. With parents and teachers sharing the responsibility, we'll save lives and stop accidents."

A wet beginning

A cottager's association really began on Mountain Lake one windy cold day in the early summer of 1978. Two lonely boats were skirting the shores, battling troublesome waves and still-frigid water. The wet occupants were a group of cottage residents attempting to contact as many cottagers as possible to gather signatures to present in petition to Minden Council. A subdivision was being planned for Mountain Lake and cottagers were tortured with visions of back lot development with street lights scarring the shores.

A co-operative effort of government, law, critics and communities ensured a final development plan to meet everyone's satisfaction, but the cottagers were left with a recognition of a problem ... Where does one turn to when a problem develops on a lake, be it zoning, pollution or safety? Patrick Daniel ... a long time cottager on Mountain Lake directed over 100 persons to his shores in August 1978 and the Mountain Lake Property Owners Association was born.

Those who have served the causes of the Association are:

Presidents: 1978 - 1980 ... Patrick Daniel;
1980 - 1982 ... George Dale; 1982 - 1984 ... Jean Anthon.

Vice - Presidents: 1978 - 1980 ... George Dale and Sandy Lenko; 1980 - 1982 ... Jean Anthon; 1982 - 1984 ... Derwent Lewis.

Secretaries: 1978 - 1981 ... June Forsbrey;
1981 - 1984 ... Colleen Divell and Vil Petersons.

Treasurers: 1978 - 1982 ... Jean Anthon;
1982 - 1984 ... Al Reeves.

Chairman of Municipal Affairs: 1978 - 1980 ... Irv Mandel; 1980 - 1984 ... Mike Mahoney.

Social Committee Chairman: 1979 - 1984 ... Derwent Lewis.

Membership Chairman: 1978 - 1982 ... Ruth Gorrie; 1982 - 1984 ... Elizabeth Hurtle.

Regatta Chairman: 1983 ... Grant Hurtle.

These dedicated people have provided one of the most active and effective property owners associations in the County. Their annual meetings have provided platforms for local government officials including Reeve Sinc Nesbitt, Reeve Lloyd Walker, Councillor Ed Pergolas; Environment Activists Mike Collins and Sonya Holliday-Rhodes in regard to acid rain and lake liming programs.

O.P.P. Constable Wim Magee addressed boat safety and cottage security. A representative from Natural Resources provided up to date information on fish stocking, logging, water quality and environment programs.

The Ontario Federation of Cottagers has sent representatives, executive director Bert Shingler and President Jerry Strickland, to respond to queries with regard to the 66 foot right of way, Ontario Municipal Board hearings, seasonal versus permanent residence status, and co-operation with town councils.

Under the vigorous leadership of Jim Russell, the environment committee has an excellent record of service. Jim was instrumental in sending letters of protest to leaders around the world regarding the acid precipitation destruction of Muskoka and Haliburton. The association has sent donations to the Canadian Coalition on Acid Rain and the Movement Against The Rain to further fight this insidious killer of our natural resources.

The Environment Committee also lists among its activities: a constant water survey to indicate pollution levels; collecting results of acidification levels of lake; loon survey; waters levels; gypsy moth survey; and most recently to initiate a cottage anti-pollution program to further our most important goal ... the cleanest lake around.

From an initial membership of 82, the association has grown to 125 members.

Members were enthusiastic about the building of the new Minden

Library and eagerly contributed to the building fund.

Social activities have broken the isolation and instilled a new community spirit. Mountain Lake hats and T-shirts bearing the Mountain Lake logo of a loon appear everywhere now. The wiener and corn roasts developed into a full scale regatta last summer, 1983. In spite of pouring rain, 100 eager participants appeared to engage in the many sporting events, from long distance swimming to canoeing and sailing. The George Anthon Memorial trophy for over-all excellence was won by Peter Trimble. The damp day concluded with a warm reception and beef bar-b-que hosted by John and Pat Bath of Mountain Park Cottages. Chairman Bob Hurtle is already making plans for a bigger and better 1984 regatta.

Provincially, the Mountain Lake Association has made itself felt by sending representatives to all the Federation of Ontario Cottagers (FOCA) spring and fall seminars. The present President of Mountain Lake Association is a Director and Environment Chairman for FOCA and a governor of the Canadian Coalition on Acid Rain.

At present, the executive is finalizing an area map and directory, and maintaining constant communication with neighbouring lakes and council for a most effective control. The Mountain Property Owners Association has an excellent record of service for the protection of the environment while sharing the joys of cottage life. It is their hope that this legacy of commitment will be accepted by the happy young cottagers growing up in love with life in the Haliburton Highlands.

Dear readers. Much activity here over the weekend. Both with and without. We will try to tell you what it's all about.

Darryl Crowe and Gail Ackley were married in Minden United Church this 4th of May day. Came to visit Darryl's great-grandmother Annie Cox before they went away. Darryl sure knows how to pick them. Gail is a lovely bride, we're sure Darryl's proud to have her by his side.

As they start down life's highway together, we hope they don't run into too much stormy weather.

Bill Johnson comes on weekends. Stays around and about, to look after his mother and sometimes takes her out.

A nice service in the chapel Sunday night although the Thompsons were not there. Mary Burgess helps her husband out by leading us in prayer. We sang some good old favourite songs, which we all enjoy so much, then Rev. John always has an interesting message for us, he really has the touch.

Bill Prentice caught a fish in Gull Lake. It really was a bouncer. He brought it up to show us. A lovely thirteen pounder!

Our ladies are working in our craft room two afternoons a week, knitting afghans, mittens and socks and all the things like that. To these busy ladies we take off our hats.

Lily Hogg's son Howard and wife Clara, while down this way, came to call on his mother this fourth of May day.

We have a new nurse come to us. Her name is Ecclestone. We welcome her and hope she will like it here in our lovely home.

Teddy Carr has been laid up with a swollen leg, but as we write this letter, the swelling is going down and the leg is getting better.

Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church held the service in the chapel this Tuesday. Filling in for Rev. George Elliott, just why he didn't say. We are always glad to have Rev. Westhaver come to us, he always has an interesting message without a bit of fuss. We thank Rev. Westhaver for coming to us today and Fred Ballard who came the music to play.

Doris showed us 3 movies Tuesday afternoon which made us smile, "Fire Building and Cooking", "Fiddles, Diddles" and "Five Thousand Miles".

Down at fun and fitness playing bucket ball. Doris Vaughan made the highest score of all.

Our entertainers came again Wednesday night. Earl Cooper from Grass Lake and Kathy Owens from the Frost Centre, we know we are gonna have fine music. As soon as they enter! With Kathy on the piano keys and Earl on the violin, with music the room does fill. Anyone with itchy feet could hardly sit still. Then Kathy played the accordion and sang some good old songs - Please come back to us again before too long.

Pastor and Mrs. Ward Taylor and ladies of the Full Gospel Lighthouse, Haliburton, came down to us this 9th day of May. Not only brought and served a delicious lunch, but played and sang. Pastor Taylor is a great pianist and his wife has a lovely voice, the way they played and sang for us made us all rejoice.

We would like to thank the bingo callers who came to call the numbers Thursday night. Doug Ripley and Paul Travers who did the job just right.

Congratulations to Millie Wood, we would like to say, she had a birthday this tenth of May.

This is nurse's week and I know some I missed, but I tried to treat them all to a hug and kiss.

Friday afternoon Grace Coburn came to lead us in a sing-a-long. Doris the music to play. Grace had some humorous poems and 2 or 3 numbers to sing. Thank you for coming Grace, much pleasure you bring. Then Doris led us in a very interesting subject, family life in our time compared to family life today.

As we end this letter we would just like to say, "God bless all mothers on this Mother's Day".

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Board honours employees

A school bus contractor and four employees were honoured recently by the Haliburton County Board of Education.

The five individuals were presented with gifts by trustees of the board at the annual Chairman's Banquet held at Wig-a-Mog Inn on Friday evening.

Harold Deacon of Minden was commended for his work as a driver and co-owner of a bus company since the inception of the board in 1969. He was presented with a gift by Leroy Eager, a trustee for Stanhope Township and himself a school bus driver.

Glamorgan trustee, Julie Hunter, conveyed the board's appreciation to Mildred Reber for her many years of dedicated work as a teacher throughout the province and in Haliburton County.

Cheryl Murdoch, the Lutterworth trustee honoured Olive Giles on her upcoming retirement as the Secretary of the J. Douglas Hodgson Senior Elementary School. Mrs. Giles was praised for her fourteen years service as a very trustworthy, organized, professional employee who will be greatly missed by the board.

Leonard Salvatori, trustee of Dysart et al, presented a gift to Phrona Sisson in appreciation for her many years of service as a custodian at the West Guilford School and at the Senior Elementary School.

Mrs. Sisson was commended for her caring attitude and her willingness to share her sewing skills with many students. She was told that she would be sadly missed by the students, teachers and the board.

Bonnie Lee Berry, trustee for Anson, Hindon and Minden, conveyed the board's appreciation to Audrey Heywood for her gracious manner in dealing with students and teachers while serving as a secretary at Archie Stouffer School and Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Mrs. Heywood was also commended for her work with the Guild of Fine Arts Concert Series and her help in the student theatrical productions.

Following the presentations to the retiring employees, the vice-chairman, Linda Mumford presented a gavel to the board chairman, Paul Wilson. She complimented the chairman for the time and effort he devotes to his position and his forthright manner in conducting business.

In his closing remarks, Paul Wilson thanked board secretary Joan Fennell and Director of Education Stuart Baker for their assistance during his term as chairman and extended the appreciation of the board to the retiring employees for their many years of dedicated service.

U.C.W. raises $744.50

The Minden United Church Women recently raised $744.50 in aid of "CATScan" fund.

These ladies, who meet every second month, for the month of May, arranged to have a speaker from CATScan as their guest. To their surprise, a team from Peterborough came to give us an excellent picture of the CATScan program. We were joined by Mr. Jack McDonald of Haliburton, our local co-ordinator, Mrs. Mabel Brannigan, assistant, Mr. Jerry Peters of Peterborough, Campaign Chairman, Mrs. Helen Wilcox, vice chairman and Mr. Wally Hicks, Chief X-Ray technician at St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough.

The pictures shown and the answers given to our questions were in layman's terms. It was a very informative evening.

How fortunate we are to have citizens such as these representatives who give so much of their time and energy to this very worthy cause. A miracle machine that can save so many lives - possibly even yours or mine or the lives of our nearest and dearest.

For anyone who has not been contacted directly - there are boxes available in many stores where one can contribute or if you prefer to leave it with the Toronto Dominion Bank, they have established a trust fund to look after your donation until it is transferred to Peterborough.

Receipts are available for tax purposes. These are temporary and will be replaced some time later by official receipts.

Parks open but dry

Most campers look forward to a peaceful, relaxing vacation in Ontario's provincial parks.

And, once again this year, the Ministry of Natural Resources is prohibiting the consumption of alcohol in 19 provincial parks from May 10 to May 20 to ensure there is peace and quiet.

The regulation will be in effect in Arrowhead, Awenda, Balsam Lake, Bass Lake, Bon Echo, Darlington, Earl Rowe, Emily, Ferris, Fitzroy, Killbear, McRae Point, Presqu'ile, Rideau River, Sandbanks, Serpent Mounds, Sibbald Point, Silver Lake and Six Mile Lake.

Natural Resources Minister Michael Harris says there has been a positive response from most campers since the annual ban was established several years ago.

"There could be potential problems during this busy period," he said. "Banning alcohol for a short time has made spring holidays more pleasant for the majority of campers and visitors especially family groups."

It gave us a great feeling to know we have so many caring friends and relatives. Thank you all.
